DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 32, 44, 49, 50- 54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jones et al (newly cited).

Jones discloses an apparatus for delivering fluid into a well. Conduits 26 have axially spaced inlets and outlets. The conduits are connected to the lower end of workstring 22. The outlets are adjacent the level to which fluid is to be delivered when in an operable position. As to claim 44, the sand screen has a connector at each end. As seen in Fig. 5B, some of the conduits have ends spaced from the connectors. As to claim 45, the conduits are coaxially disposed. As to claim 49, the end of the conduits are spaced from the ends of other conduits. As to claim 50, the conduits are mounted on the outer surface of the screen. As to claim 54, the conduits are arranged in staggered rows. As to claims 51-53, the screen shown can be made in sections connected one to another (see col. 3, lines 50-55). The conduits from one section to another would be spaced and unconnected to one another.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3672

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 46 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jones et al (newly cited) in view of Bryant et al'200.

Jones, as applied above, discloses all of the claimed limitations except for the use of a shroud surrounding the shunt tubes. Bryant teaches a gravel-packing tool similar to Jones having a shroud 17 placed around the shunt tubes. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a shroud around the shunt tubes of Joñes as taught by Bryant in order to obtain a gravel packing assembly having conduits of differing lengths surrounded by a shroud. One would have been motivated to make such a combination because the use of a shroud protects the shunt tubes or conduits from damage during run-in and use as taught by Bryant.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-31 and 33-43 are allowed.

Claims 47 and 48 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
